PATH Academy

PATH (Pre-Apprenticeship Training in Healthcare) Academy is a 70-hour (two week) training program designed to introduce participants to careers in healthcare, behavioral health, or human services.

Training includes job readiness activities, industry-recognized certifications, general knowledge of health and the healthcare industry, and job search services. Upon completion, participants will be more prepared to enter a registered apprenticeship, begin an entry-level healthcare position, or pursue further training and education in the field.

PATH is offered to participants at NO COST through a grant with the U.S. Department of Commerce. It is a great starting course for adults entering the workforce for the first time, re-entering the workforce after some time, or changing careers and considering work in this dynamic and in-demand field. Minimum age is 16; high schooler students may attend if scheduling allows.

Participants earn 5 nationally recognized certifications:

- Mental Health First Aid
- First Aid
- Mandt De-escalation
- Basic Life Support
- Bloodborne Pathogens

WE'RE READY TO COME TO YOUR COMMUNITY!

SERRC, with the Southeast Alaska AHEC, is partnering with the Alaska Primary Care Association to hold multiple PATH Academies in communities across Southeast Alaska over the next year.

The training is fully funded and free to participants and partner organizations. We ask that host communities contribute a classroom site for the training, and that partner agencies contribute the time to host tours/field trips, participate in mock interviews or speaker panels. Partners are welcome to sponsor lunch or snacks for participants.

If you are interested in PATH Academy coming to your community, call (907) 433-7413 or email cameron@sercc.org.

Healthcare includes: Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT), Direct Service Providers (DSP), Certified Nursing Assistants (CNA), Respite Providers, Health Aides, Peer Support Specialists, Behavioral Health Specialists, Nutritionists and Food Service Technicians, Environmental Services (Janitorial), Medical Records technician, Physical Therapists, Speech-Language Therapists, Occupational Therapists, Psychologists, Social Workers, Dental Assistants and more!
